

Acupuncture Treatment of Musculoskeletal & Nervous System Disorders

LU Shao-jie

This work is an extensively revised compilation of two other volumes by Lu Shao Jie, Handbook of Acupuncture in the Treatment of Musculoskeletal Conditions and Handbook of Acupuncture in the Treatment of Nervous System Disorders.

Although the structural presentation is simple and straightforward, the depth of its content is rewarding. Divided into seven chapters, the first four are arranged by body part and include both musculoskeletal and neurological conditions, while the three remaining chapters focus almost exclusively on neurological disorders. Each chapter offers a wealth of information on from 8 to 31 different conditions (a total of 127 in all), and each condition is covered both from a Western medical and a Chinese medical (TCM) perspective, with sections on Clinical manifestations, Pattern identification, Treatment, Method, and Clinical notes.

Features

- Practical reference text covering 127 musculoskeletal and nervous system disorders for which acupuncture treatment is particularly indicated
- Disorders treated include sports injuries, work-related injuries, and disorders of the central nervous system, cranial nerves and peripheral nerves
